

Sponsorship Form for Visiting New Zealand

Supporting information for a visitor's visa/permit application

Who can sponsor a visitor?

To be a sponsor you must be a relative or a friend of the visitor(s) you are sponsoring, and you must be a New Zealand citizen or the holder of a New Zealand residence permit. If you are the holder of a residence permit that is subject to requirements under section 18A of the Immigration Act 1987 you are not eligible to be a sponsor.

If you are sponsoring a visitor(s) under the parent and grandparent multiple entry visitor's visa policy, you must be a child or grandchild of the principal applicant (or the parent of the principal applicant's child or grandchild).

You can provide sponsorship for a visitor in three ways. You can:

- provide financial support for the visitor(s), and/or
- provide accommodation or the cost of accommodation for the visitor(s), and/or
- guarantee to provide the cost of return airfares for the visitor(s).

Evidence you must provide

You must provide evidence that you are a New Zealand citizen or a resident.

If you are providing financial support/the cost of accommodation/the cost of return airfares for the visitor(s) you must provide evidence that you have sufficient funds.

If you are agreeing to provide accommodation for the visitors while they are in New Zealand, you must also provide evidence that you own, or hold a rental agreement on, the property that the visitor(s) will stay at while they are in New Zealand.

If you wish to support your partner's (or intended partner's) application for a visitor's visa/permit you must also complete the Form for Partners Supporting Partnership-Based Temporary Entry Applications (INZ 1146).

Signing the declaration

When you have completed sections A to D of the form (and, if necessary, your bank has completed Section E: Bank confirmation), you must take the form and the evidence you are providing to a person authorised to take a statutory declaration, and complete Section F:

Sponsor's declaration with them. Justices of the Peace, solicitors or notaries public are authorised to take a statutory declaration.

When your statutory declaration has been authorised, return the form with your evidence to the visitor.

Sponsor's responsibilities

When you agree to be a sponsor, you undertake and agree to:

- reimburse the Crown for all costs/expenses the Crown incurs associated with the people you are sponsoring, for the whole length of their visit (whether they are on a temporary permit, or are in New Zealand unlawfully)
- repay the New Zealand Government for any costs the New Zealand Government incurs because of your failure to meet your obligations as a sponsor.

If you fail to repay any such costs to the New Zealand Government, a debt for the amount of those costs is then due to the Crown. This debt may be enforced against you in the New Zealand Courts.

If you do not carry out the responsibilities you have agreed to, it is likely that Immigration New Zealand will recover from you any costs incurred in the removal process for the person(s) who have been sponsored.

Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007

Under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007, anyone giving immigration advice will have to be licensed (unless they are exempt). From 4 May 2009, all immigration advisers working in New Zealand must be licensed. From 4 May 2010, all immigration advisers, whether working onshore or offshore, must be licensed. It is an offence to provide immigration advice without holding a licence from these dates. If your immigration adviser is not licensed when they should be, Immigration New Zealand will return your application.

For more information and to view the Register of licensed advisers, go to the Immigration Advisers Authority website www.iaa.govt.nz, email info@iaa.govt.nz, or write to them at PO Box 6222, Wellesley Street, Auckland 1141, New Zealand.

About the information you provide

Deciding whether you are eligible to be a sponsor

The information about you on this form is collected to determine your eligibility to be a sponsor of a visitor to New Zealand.

The main recipient of the information is Immigration New Zealand, Department of Labour, but it may also be shared with other Government agencies, which are entitled to the information under applicable legislation.

The address of Immigration New Zealand is PO Box 3705, Wellington, New Zealand. This is not where the application should be sent.

Collecting this information is authorised by the Immigration Act 1987 and the Immigration Regulations made under that Act. You do not have to provide the information, but if you do not then the visitor's application may be declined.

Any person who is in New Zealand has the right to access the information about them held by Immigration New Zealand and to ask for any of it to be corrected if they think that is necessary.

Health and disability services

Visitor permit holders generally are not eligible for publicly-funded health and disability services. People covered by New Zealand's Reciprocal Health Agreements with Australia and the UK are entitled to publicly-funded health care for immediately necessary medical treatment only. We strongly recommend that visitors have comprehensive health insurance for the duration of their visit. For more information visit the Ministry of Health website at www.moh.govt.nz.
